1. In my discussion with [ ] I understand that RACA is extremely short of personnel, so much so that they are already feeling the loss of [ ] who is participating in our project. Such being the case, I do not believe we can call on them to furnish a meteorological technician for duty assignment at each overseas base.

2. We have two other alternatives: we can utilize Air Weather Service personnel, or obtain contractor trained personnel. I suggest you consult with A&S to see if they can make available one Airman for assignment to each overseas detachment. Such Airman would be trained to service and maintain the peculiar meteorological equipment.

3. Please keep me informed of your success in this venture.

Deputy Project Director
